As one of the European market leaders for luminaire manufacturing, the German RIDI Group offers its products under RIDI, Spectral and li:fy product brands.

The Spectral product brand combines the unique design with the high-end technology to create unique design and architecturally inspired lighting solutions.

The Spectral brand is all about implementing exclusive effects with lighting to an exemplary technological standard, combining clarity of form and styling with innovative lighting technology. It enables a confident expression of style no matter what the type of property, creating a unique and elegant lighting effect to bring out the best in any space. The full potential of Spectral unfolds wherever projects call for ingenious, non-standard solutions. Whether form, colour or equipment features - Spectral products can be engineered to blend seamlessly into any property with outstanding scope for flexibility and individual taste.

Through its consistent integration into the RIDI Group, Spectral has benefited from ultra-modern production technology and quality assurance from RIDI. All luminaires of the Spectral brand are also subject to stringent quality controls to ensure compliance with the "Quality made by RIDI" pledge.

Spectral products are particularly suited for the following applications:

individual and open-plan offices; entrance halls and corridors; retail outlets and showrooms; museums and galleries; auditoriums and conference rooms; canteen and circulation areas; sacred architecture
