As one of the European market leaders for luminaire manufacturing, the German RIDI Group offers its products under RIDI, Spectral and li:fy product brands.

The li:fy brand specializes in creating a warm and pleasant lighting ambience and lending a "certain something" to any kind of room in the home.

This series is all about design, meticulous workmanship and progressive contemporary product development. Unique glass light fittings which are largely hand crafted underpin the individual and uniquely special nature of any room. li:fy is the perfect answer wherever home owners attach importance to technological excellence, quality and individuality.

Another highlight of the li:fy range: its exclusive shaded light fittings.

Using modern design methods and with the concentrated expertise of the entire RIDI Group, li:fy is able to address practically every individual customer preference. No matter whether it's the shade colour, size or shape - li:fy produces each light fitting just the way the customer specifies, making each and every one a reflection of the owner's personality. Needless to say, the familiar "Quality made by RIDI" pledge applies equally to all the li:fy products.

li:fy products are particularly suited for the following applications:

private rooms, hotels, restaurants, nursing homes, student residences, sales situations, prestigious offices, high-end public buildings
