Italian manufacturer of aesthetic luminaires, which meet the technical and photometric requirements on high levels. AEC Illuminazione offers not only state-of-the-art luminaires, but also classical ones, which are suitable for historic parts of towns. Headquartered in Subbiano (Arezzo, Italy), the company has a 50,000 m2 site, including office and manufacturing buildings of 24,000 m2 with more than 150 employees.

AEC products are the result of a multidisciplinary project which takes place within the modern workspaces dedicated to the production units and to the sophisticated laboratories where security and performance are tested by qualified and constantly up-dated staff.

The Company's philosophy, based on the concept of "total quality system," predicts the concentration of all the production phases from the designing to the production and distribution of the product. In 2013, the company presented the new edition of the book "The 10.280 Best Italian Companies" and may hold the symbol of "Italian pride".
